

When patients choose Battell Denture Clinic in Hamilton, they are choosing a practice with deep roots in the community battelldentureclinic.com Best denture clinic in hamilton and a heritage of clinical excellence spanning two generations. Michael Battell, DD, carries forward the tradition established by his father, Kenneth Battell, DD, FCAD, who founded the clinic on Concession Street in 1975 and built a reputation for honest, patient-centred denture care across the Greater Hamilton area. As a licensed denturist, Michael Battell brings current clinical training, a commitment to continuing education, and a personal investment in the wellbeing of every patient who walks through the door. Patients frequently mention him by name in their reviews, highlighting his skill, patience, and the genuine care he extends to individuals in vulnerable situations, including elderly patients and those managing complex health conditions. The on-site laboratory that Michael oversees is central to the quality of work produced at this Hamilton denture clinic. By controlling every stage of fabrication in-house, from initial impressions to the final finish, Michael ensures that dentures meet exacting standards before they are ever placed in a patient's mouth.
