History

Vueling Airlines was founded in 2004 with a mission to provide affordable air travel across Europe. Headquartered in Barcelona, Spain, the airline quickly expanded, offering numerous domestic and international routes. As part of the International Airlines Group (IAG), Vueling has grown into one of Europe's largest low-cost carriers. Over the years, the airline has continuously modernized its fleet and services, adapting to industry trends and passenger needs. Vueling entered the U.S. market to cater to growing transatlantic travel demand, selecting JFK as a key gateway. Its operations at JFK allow seamless connections to European destinations, reinforcing its reputation for accessibility and affordability. Vueling's emphasis on innovation and efficiency has solidified its position as a competitive player in the aviation industry. nsure images are 300 DPI for print and fonts are embedded to prevent issues.
